BENEFITS TO STARTING A UNITED WAY CAMPAIGN

- Get to know your community
A United Way campaign not only provides a means for your employees to give, but an opportunity to learn about services they, or someone close to them, may need. Because your employees may be benefiting from services provided by United Way funded programs, you gain a stronger, healthier work force. (Thousands of your neighbors use these services every day.)
- Keep your donations in your community
Since United Way funds are raised and invested locally to create lasting change, the money you and your employees contribute is a direct link to the community, making it a better place to live, work and do business.
- Employee satisfaction
A United Way campaign can be fun--boosting employee morale and increasing job commitment.
- Staff and Organizational Development
Having employees contribute to the leadership of your United Way campaign provides employee growth opportunities and builds teamwork within your organization. It also brings together employees from all levels and departments who might not otherwise have the opportunity to work together, thereby fostering a stronger, more cohesive and more motivated work force.
- Corporate social responsibility
Because your support is acknowledged in United Way materials and public events, you gain exposure for your efforts. You benefit from an enhanced community image which can help your marketing and employment efforts.
- Results
